Dear members of EURASIA family,

Since I am now in Melbourne Professor Gough and I had opportunities to talk about the future of EURASIA and we decided to publish a special Australia issue next year with the theme “Looking to the Future of Education from DownUnder: A focus on science, mathematics, technology and environmental education.” Professors Annette Gough and Di Siemon from the School of Education at RMIT University will be the editors of this Australia special issue.

We are hoping to be able to include a range of articles which focus on innovative practices and future issues for

- Environmental education/Education for sustainability
- Mathematics education
- Science education
- Technology education

Submissions for this special issue should be emailed to annette.gough@rmit.edu.au

or di.siemon@rmit.edu.au with the subject heading: Paper for Australia special issue no later than 30 September 2008.

There are other upcoming exciting events: The 2009 Conference of European Science Education Research Association (ESERA) will be held in Istanbul between 31 August and 4 September. We gladly invite all interested to submit proposals for inclusion in the conference. The conference web site is www.esera2009.org. Please check frequently to keep pace with the developments.
